The fire on the Fort mountain was of a threatening character last Monday. Mr. H. B. Chapman's timber and buildings seemed to be in danger and Mr. C. had secured the services of a number of hands to protect his property. The rain on Monday night extinguished the flames to the great relief of Mr. Chapman and other property holders.

Escaped by Chance.
A little girl in crossing the railroad track in this place in some way had her foot wedged next to the rail. While Mr. Wine, the principal of the Graded School was endeavoring to release her, an engine which was shifting on the side track passed them. Had the engine been on the main track, the child would have been killed or crippled.

Another Landmark Gone.
The Hollingsworth mill, one mile south of Winchester which was so well known for years by travelers in the Shenandoah Valley was burned last Saturday. This mill was built by the late Isaac Hollingsworth, father of the late Isaac M. Hollingsworth of this place, in the year 1834. The property belonged to Mr. Chiles, when burned.

Luray Dry and Dark.
Luray, Va., Nov. 21.—Luray is experiencing, as one of the results of the severe drought prevailing throughout the Valley of Virginia, total darkness. This state has obtained since early in September. Extremely low water in the Shenandoah River, coupled with an aggravated lead in the dam on that stream, where electricity has been generated for lighting the town and the Luray Caverns, caused the town to be in Egyptian darkness while the work of constructing a modern concrete dam is in progress.

Work Will Soon Start on New Electric Light Plant.

Mr. N. Wilson Davis, of Harrisonburg, was in Woodstock several days last week surveying and laying out plans for the new electric light and power plant. The plant will be located about 2 1/2 miles south of town, on the farm recently purchased by Mr. H. B. Chapman, from Mr. M. L. Bauserman at which point a concrete dam will be built across the Shenandoah river, 1800 cubic yards of concrete will be required for the dam and the base of the power house. This work will be done this winter so as to be ready to install the machinery in the spring.

The principal promoters of this new company are Judge E. D. Newman, Judge F. S. Tavenner, Mr. H. B. Chapman and Mr. W. S. French and they are the foremost business men of Woodstock. A charter will be applied for in the near future, after which a few shares of stock will be offered for sale.

ATTACKED BY ANGRY HORSE.

* Middletown, Nov. 22.—Covered with bruises almost from head to foot, Mr. C. H. Heater, son of Hon. C. W. Heater, is slowly recovering from an experience which almost cost him his life Friday evening. He was abed from the time of the accident until Sunday morning when he was able to sit up for a short while. He is still confined to the house, but on the road to recovery.

Mr. Heater had just returned from a business trip to New Market and was in the act of stabling his horse. It had gone lame on the journey and he determined to locate the trouble. He caught up the hoof to look at it when the animal kicked, knocking him down. Then it attacked him viciously stamping him and biting him.

Mr. Heater was unable to defend himself against the maddened animal or make his way from the stall. He called for help and his cries were heard by his mother and a colored farm hand at Montevista. As Mr. Heater was detained at the barn longer than usual they were on their way to the building to see if any mishap had befallen him when his call for help reached their ears.

The colored man drove the angry animal away from Mr. Heater and with Mrs. Heater assisted him to the house. He was in a dazed condition. He was put to bed and a physician summoned. His body was a mass of bruises, but no bones had been broken. Had not assistance reached Mr. Heater as promptly as it did he undoubtedly would have been killed.

Sulphur Expels the Rats.

Here is a Maine farmer's mode of ridding his premises of rats and mice: "If you sprinkle sulphur on your floor and through your corn as you gather it there will not be a rat or mouse to bother. I have done this for years and have never been bothered with rats or mice. I have some old corn in my crib at present and not a rat or mouse can be found. In stacking hay or oats, sprinkle on the ground and a little through each load and my word for it, rats or mice can't stay there. A pound of sulphur will be sufficient to preserve a large barn of corn, and is good for stock and will not hurt the corn or bread.—Ex.

Home-Made Fire Extinguishers.

A simple fire extinguisher may be made at home, and if kept always on hand, will sometimes prove of great value. Take twenty pounds of common salt and ten pounds of sal ammoniac, which can be bought at any drug store. Dissolve these in seven gallons of water. Put in thin glass bottles, holding a quart each, cork tightly, and seal to prevent evaporation. When a fire breaks out, throw one of these bottles so that it will break in or near the flames, or if this is not possible, break off the neck of the bottle and scatter the contents on the fire. This has been tested. Sometimes it is necessary to use several bottles.—Home Department, November National Magazine.

Board of Supervisors.

At the special meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Shenandoah county, held Monday, November 22d, 1909; all members were present.

Current accounts against the county, amounting to $107.69 were examined and allowed, and the Clerk was directed to draw warrants for the $339.60 heretofore appropriated for land fence damages and the cost of opening the road petitioned for by J. W. Barton. Jacob Swartz, 17 red and 233 gray foxes, and damages, amounting to $493.45, claimed for 75 sheep killed and 47 wounded, were paid in full.

The premium on willcuts was fixed at $1.50 (instead of $2.50) and on all foxes at fifty cents, whether red or grey, and claims for such premiums must in the future be presented by the claimant in person and not by his assignee.

DEATHS.

ROBERT PAINTER.

Mr. Robert Painter a prominent farmer, living at Pugh's Run died very suddenly last Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Some dogs were fighting in his front yard and he reached to separate them, but before reaching them he fell to the ground and expired immediately. Mrs. Cline and Smoot were at once summoned, but they found that Mr. Painter had died some minutes before they reached him. His death is supposed to have been caused by apoplexy or disease of the heart. He had for some years been a member of the Lutheran church.

Mr. Painter was highly esteemed by a large number of friends.

He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Ada Hamman, of Lebanon, three daughters, Misses Estella, Lorena and Virginia, two sons, Ernest and Frederick, one brother, Capt. Erasmus Painter, of Lebanon, three sisters, Mrs. Noah Feller, of Mt. Olive, Mrs. Geo. Hotel, of Strasburg, Mrs. W. H. Bauserman, of Zion and a large number of other relatives. He was 58 years of age. His body will be buried in Massanutten cemetery, at Woodstock. Funeral services will be held in the Lutheran church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MISS GEORGIE L. STICKLEY.

Miss Georgie L. Stickley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stickley died at her home near Woodstock last Monday afternoon, of typhoid fever, aged 16 years. She is survived by her parents and three sisters, Miss Johna Bemis, of this place, Miss Arline and a younger sister, at home. She had connected herself with the Lutheran church but a few days before her sickness. She had been sick but a few days. When death strikes down one at the end of a long life, it is to some extent expected, but when a girl, of robust health, just budding into womanhood is suddenly stricken down, it causes the greatest sorrow. Her family have the sincere sympathy of a large number of friends.

WILLIAM HOTTEL.

Mr. William Hottel, who had been paralyzed almost ten days ago, died at his residence, at Cedar Creek last Monday morning, aged 86 years.

Mr. Hottel was born on Pugh's run and was a son of the late Joseph Hottel. He conducted a mill at Cedar Creek and was agent for the B. & O. Railroad for a number of years.

He is survived by one son, Mr. Holt Hottel, of Cedar Creek; three daughters, Mrs. Wm. Painter, of Strasburg; Mrs. John Jones, of Reliance and Mrs. Benkel, of Newport News, one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Barr, of Strasburg, and one brother, Abraham Hottel, of Pugh's Run, who is the last survivor of a number of brothers, and a large number of relatives.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Stump, of Middletown and the body was laid to rest in Mount Hope cemetery at Winchester on Tuesday afternoon.

REV. ABRAHAM BECK.

Rev. Abraham Beck, colored, Pastor of the M. E. Church, in this place was paralyzed last Thursday night, at the church. He was singing the hymn, "Nearer my God to Thee," when he received the stroke which suddenly removed him from the scenes of time to those of eternity. He lingered until Friday night. He was a native of Rockingham county, but considered Lexington his home, where his wife resided. He was said to be a member of Stonewall Jackson's Sunday School class and served in some capacity with the Confederate army. His body was taken to Lexington for burial on last Monday.

His wife, daughter and son survive him.

ROCKBRIDGE SOLDIERS AT MANASSAS.

"Following is a list of the Confederate soldiers from Rockbridge county killed and wounded at the battle (first, we presume,) as shown by clipping from a book of the late Miss Sue Henry's, of Staunton, daughter of Capt. James Henry, of near Midway:

Liberty Hall Volunteers, Co. I. Fourth Regiment—Killed: B. A. Bradley and C. W. Bell by the same ball, W. L. Paxton by a shell, W. B. Ott and H. L. Wilson in the charge on the batteries. Wounded severely: C. D. Strickler, shot in the shoulder, the ball striking the spine; Calvin Utz, struck on the head with a piece of shell. Wounded slightly: George Striker, bruised in the side; W. A. Anderson, shot in the left knee; S. M. Lightner, slightly bruised; H. A. Paxton, forefinger of left hand shot off; O. F. Neel, severely bruised in the side. C. W. Bell died just as he was put on the car; the other four were buried together and their graves marked with head boards.

Rockbridge Greys, Fourth Regiment Va. Volunteers—Killed: Lieut. J. L. Moffet, Privates J. T. McCorkle, S. P. Wilson, John Goolsby, J. McManamy. Wounded: Lieut. C. C. Burks, Privates J. D. Cox, L. A. Marstella, T. Anderson, W. Berry, David Edmondson, John Fitzgerald, B. Hite, J. Miller, W. Selby, Alex. Wallace, J. B. Wilson, J. Withers and B. Maxley.

Rockbridge Rifles, Fourth Va. Infantry—Killed: Frederick Davidson, Ashbury C. McCluer. Wounded severely: D. G. Boryer, P. A. Davidson, Adam Miller, John E. Moody, E. Y. Northern, Joel Neff. Wounded slightly: Charles A. Rollins, J. W. Ruff, W. H. Cable, Wm. Spears, J. Parks, Daniel Rilely and J. J. Hileman.

Wounded in Rockbridge Artillery—Lieut. Brockenbrough, Private Jordan. None killed."

The above from the Staunton Argus is well worth being preserved. The Fourth Regiment was a part of the Stonewall Brigade, which was composed of the 24, 4th, 5th, 27th and 33d regiments, all from the Valley of Virginia. The loss of company C, of the 33d regiment in the first battle of Manassas was as follows: Killed—Samuel P. Hoekman, Joseph Boly, Aaron Shippe, Marcus McInture, Thos. Shuff, Wm. H. Bowers, Joseph Laymen, Jacob McDaniel and Isaac Wymer. Wounded—Lieut. Ed. Miller, O. S., Samuel H. Bowman, Tobias Snarr, Wm. Burner, Jas. M. Hotel, George Copp, Robert F. Myers, Daniel Funk, Wm. E. Hilton, Noah Weaver, Dan'l Miller, Philip Weaver, Edward Rodefer, John George and David George. Of the wounded, Tobias Snarr, Jas. M. Hotel, George Copp and Philip Weaver were killed in subsequent battles.

The 33d Va. in the charge upon Griffin's battery lost 184 killed and wounded. Can we not secure from some members of the regiment a list of those killed in the different companies, five of which were from Shenandoah?

Miss Ella Smith Believed to Have Been Victim of Murderers.

Manassas, Va., November 21.—The home of Miss Ella Smith, who lived about four miles north of Manassas, near the Bull Run battlefield, was destroyed by fire about 12 o'clock last night, and the unfortunate woman was cremated in the building.

The fire was first discovered by Mr. Steele, a neighbor, but when he reached the place, the dwelling had burned to the foundation. This morning the ruins of the building were searched and the charred remains of the occupant of the house discovered.

The county authorities are confident that Miss Smith was murdered and robbed, and the house fired to hide the crime. It was generally known in the neighborhood that Miss Smith had just sold a large number of turkeys, and she was thought to have a considerable sum of money in the house. There is some evidence of foul play, but as yet it is purely circumstantial.

Footprints were found leading from the burned building to the home of James Fletcher, a negro, and he has been arrested as a suspect. Warrants have also been issued for the arrest of Joe and Walter Davis, negroes, in connection with the case.

A pistol that Miss Smith was known to have in the house can't be found, and the sheriff is now engaged in a search for it.

The property upon which Miss Smith lived belonged jointly to her and Miss Hallie Smith, a sister. The two had made their home on the place for a number of years, but recently a disagreement took place as to the management of the property and Miss Hallie Smith left home, leaving her sister in possession. By consent the land had been divided just a few days ago, and a partition deed was to have been executed by the two sisters tomorrow.

Miss Hallie Smith now becomes heir to her sister's portion of the property.

The Youth's Companion Calendar for 1910.

The publishers of The Youth's Companion will, as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription ($1.75) is paid for 1910 a beautiful Calendar for the new year. The picture panel which suggests the title, "Veniunt," for the Calendar was painted by the famous marine artist, Thomas Moran. His Venetian scene, reproduced in the Calendar by thirteen-color lithography, will be found well worth preserving, long after 1910 is gone by.
